Trains from London Liverpool Street station take slightly longer. Addenbrookes Hospital is a ten-minute taxi ride from the rail station and taxis can be found outside the station entrance. For train times visit www.nationalrail.co.uk

by cycle

There are bicycle racks in front the building and around the hospital site.

Parking- see advice and site map below

For free on-site parking, use 'Staff Carpark S', the entrance is off Robinson Way (Barriers are open from 5pm).

Car parking and entrance to the venue

If you require any further information or disabled parking facilities, please contact Georgina Norris via email: gan23@medschl.cam.ac.uk or call: 01223 254608

The Cancer Research UK Cambridge Institute (CRUK CI) can be seen in the background to the right.

If the barrier to the car park is down as you enter, please press the buzzer and inform security that you are there for the NIHR Cambridge BRC Open Evening.

Please note that this is a staff car park and that the barriers will NOT be opened for the event until 5pm.

There are plenty of parking spaces, however where possible to reduce the amount of traffic coming onto the Addenbrooke's site we ask that you use public transport if possible.

If you are unable to find the Cancer Research UK Cambridge Institute (CRUK CI) on the evening please call 07974 962173 and a member of the team will be able to help.
